With more than 160 years' unique expertise in the art of protection, Aigle has gradually extended its playing field from the countryside to urban environments and, in recent years, has emerged as a leading outdoor lifestyle brand.

The Spring/Summer 2017 season sees a back-to-basics approach by Aigle, with the launch of the Travel & Hike line and an Everyday Outdoor collection inspired mainly this season by all things nautical.

This collection fulfils the widest range of expectations, combining a strong sense of style with enhanced functionality in products that have been reworked to perform better against the elements.

For all those who want to dress themselves out for an adventure in nature, a one day trek or for an active trip, Aigle is launching a Travel & Hike line.

Technical products...

...that offer protection from the rain, wind or sun. Each item of clothing offers added value either in its fabric and details (water-repellent Aquaguard zip, waterproof zips, etc.) or its design (multi-pockets, fold away hood...).

Ultra-light products...

...to wear in any situation, which are comfortable and easy to carry. Our products are multipurpose and come in lightweight, unlined fabrics; we opt for multiple layers concept.

Clever products...

...that can be converted or compressed, with pockets and practical details for modern and functional clothing. Innovative, well-designed products that are suited to new ways of life.
